Looks like everyone can make the practice run on Friday, March 1 at 3:00 p.m. (EST). You do not need to have your final presentations at this time; however, please come prepared with an outline of your presentation. The practice run typically only lasts 30 minutes, depending on how many questions there are. I will send the log-in instructions at a later date.

Thanks,
Jaclyn

Hi All,

I am not sure who all is on my distribution list, so I just wanted to make sure you saw that registration opened today.

I believe I am still waiting on a couple of the speakers to let me know when they are available for the practice run, so if you could fill out the doodle poll with your availability, that would be great.

Thanks,
Jaclyn

Hello Everyone,

The New England Interstate Water Pollution Control Commission (NEIWPCC) is excited to announce that the first installment of the Biofuels Webinar Series will be held on March 13, 2013. The full webinar agenda, as well as online registration can be found at NEIWPCC's UST Inspectors website <http://www.neiwpcc.org/ustwebinars.asp>.

Release Detection Challenges Posed by Biofuels

Wednesday, March 13, 2013

1:00 to 3:30 PM (EDT)

Draft Webinar Outline:

1. Introduction from EPA National Biofuels Team – Michael Pomes, EPA Region 7
2. Potential Impact of Biofuels on Leak Detection – Kevin Henderson, Kevin Henderson Consulting, LLC.
3. NWGLDE and Release Detection Challenges – Curt Johnson, AL DEM
 - Challenges with equipment
 - Release detection methods listed for biofuels? Or close to being listed? Or issues preventing them from being listed?
 - NWGLDE Disclaimer
4. Detection of Water – Anne Gregg, Battelle
 - Phase separation
 - Tank tightness

Participation requires only an internet connection to view the presentations and a phone line to hear the audio portion. The day before the webinar, you will be provided with specific log-in information. Please note attendance preference will be given to state, territorial, and tribal UST inspectors as well as 3rd party state inspectors. Space is limited so sign up early! Pre-registration is required by March 8. The link to registration can be found here: <https://www.neiwpcc.org/conference/conference.asp>.

Please forward this email to individuals that may be interested in participating in this or future UST Inspector Training Webinars!
